ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

I.M.C. S.p.A. Board of Directors acknowledges the need to establish and keep an Environmental Management System applicable to all carried out activities and to the products put on the market.

With the introduction of said Management System the Board of Directors undertakes to develop the following general outlines to be referred to:

- Ensure that the mandatory requirements (applicable environmental law and rules) are recognised, identified, defined and fulfilled, together with other requirements endorsed by the organisation;
- Analyse the data resulting from the site environmental performances;
- Develop a system for continuous improvement of the System effectiveness;
- Define Goals and targets for the Environment by facilitating the optimisation of natural resources and energy consumption, by improving environmental performances and the management of dangerous substances and wastes;
- Take action so that monitoring and operational procedures are ensured to prevent pollution, especially air and soil-subsoil pollution;
- Periodically review the policy, the goals for environmental protection, the relating set targets included;

The defined management System is complementary to and integrates other business management tools for the achievement of an increasingly higher added value of activities and processes concerned.

To ensure start up, development and observance of the Management System, the Board of Directors undertakes to create, inside the company, suitable organisational and relational conditions.

It undertakes, moreover, to communicate and impress on all employees the importance of the Environmental Policy content and, in addition, to make sure that it is working, kept constantly active and made available to the public or to whoever asks for it.

The Board of Directors of I.M.C. S.p.A. undertakes to use renewable energy sources, such as photovoltaic power systems.

According to the Environmental Policy requirements and implementing rules, the employees in charge for the relevant activities must fully comply with them, thus fulfilling their skills and responsibility.
